What Graduates Say

"I looked around at what different programs were offered and I liked the practical side because I was going to be working with people who were not only involved in research and writing but also in what's happening right now in the school district. I can now, with confidence, move on to the next stage of my career in service of education and be valuable right away." — Stephen Riviere, graduate

"Being able to be with the same group of learners from day one until graduation is amazing because we're able to understand each other, learn with each other, and help each other and really grow. You don't see that with a lot of programs. You do here at SDSU." — J. J. Lewis, graduate
