Started at Palomar College?
Earn Your Bachelor’s in Communication from SDSU

With SDSU@Palomar College, you can finish your B.A. in Communication at SDSU in just two years while maintaining your connection with Palomar College.

Estimated Cost
$21,648-$24,600

Min. Completion Time
2 Years

Course Format
Online

Program Highlights
- Self-paced online format, so you can choose to slow down with a lighter course load or speed up by taking on a heavier class load
- Same instructors who teach on-campus courses at SDSU
- Instructional assistance, such as in-person* discussions and coursework guidance at Palomar College, provided by SDSU
- Financial aid available
- Exclusive access to many SDSU community programs/services
- Earn the same degree as SDSU on-campus students — a Bachelor of Arts in Communication from San Diego State University

About the Program
SDSU’s online B.A. in Communication program is an undergraduate communication program designed for the twenty-first century. You’ll learn how to develop integrated, interactive, international, and intercultural communication strategies that you can apply in nearly any industry. The program also focuses on social issues, giving you the tools you’ll need to engage the issues facing your local community and the world at large.

Communication is key in any field. A degree from SDSU can help you become a strong communicator and an effective team-member, no matter what your career looks like.

Fall 2021 Application Period
- Oct. 15, 2020–April 30, 2021

If you’d like to learn more, please contact:

Nicole Williams
San Diego State University
nwilliams@sdsu.edu
(619) 594-3946

P.J. DeMaris
Palomar College
pdemaris@palomar.edu

*In-person components are available virtually due to COVID-19 restrictions. Once restrictions are lifted and in-person education resumes at each site, these services will be provided at Palomar College.

neverstoplearning.net/palomar