

B.S. in Child Development Fall 2021 Schedule

Starting the B.S. in Child Development program in fall 2021? Track your progress and see what's next with the fall 2021 cohort course schedule.

SDSU's B.S. in Child Development degree completion program has two start dates each year — one in the spring semester, and one in the fall semester. Each start date has its own unique course schedule. Please note that you must take each class according to this schedule in order to stay on track.

*Although the majority of the courses are held online, there are four courses (CFD 378A, 378B, 578, 590) that contain in-person components, as well as the Field Experience (CFD 597). In-person components are available virtually or are temporarily waived due to COVID-19 restrictions. Once restrictions are lifted and in-person education resumes, these components will be provided as in-person experiences.
